Solar Panel Cleaning Business for Sale

If you like working outdoors, being your own boss and setting your own hours, this business could be just what you are after.

Your day-to-day activities will include cleaning solar panels and conducting visual bird and animal proofing of solar panel systems.

The business you will be stepping into is well established. It is in an area where a high and growing proportion of homes and businesses have solar panels. This provides strong opportunities for growth. Over the years, this business has built up a substantial database of repeat customers across the Western Suburbs, Nepean Region and Blue Mountains. This business has regular annual customers generating over $120,000 (ex GST) per year, and this number grows every month. Take over, walk in and immediately start earning money.

The business is operated from home and does not occupy commercial premises. Not only is this convenient, it also helps keep overheads low and profits high.

This quality business comes with all tooling and a utility vehicle - all for just $200,000.
