Just a few minutes from Central Station and light rail network and with Chinatown on your doorstep.

Capsule hotels were developed as a way for budget travellers to have somewhere safe and affordable to sleep. Over the years capsule hotels have remained popular but the experience of staying in one has dramatically changed, with pod hoteliers competing to provide guests with the most stylish and luxurious experience.

This hotel is located right in the heart of Sydney, just a few minutes from Central Station and light rail network and with Chinatown on your doorstep.

It has 100 modern single and double bed capsules with a choice of the upper or lower capsule on different levels. Each capsule is equipped with the latest technology, including LED mirror light, ceiling light, reading light, and multiple USB ports. Accessed using a private keycard, the capsule allows guests to control the air ventilation and store small personal items in an in-capsule safe. The guests are guaranteed to have a comfortable and safe experience throughout their time here.

Now is the perfect time to invest. With the ease of Covid restrictions, there surely will be more travelers in the near future.
