Skylights, Roof Windows Installation and Supply Biz with Great Potential, Long-Established

Hit the ground running and boost your income with this incredible business opportunity that you can operate from anywhere!

For sale is a roof windows and skylights supply and installation business that has been catering to the needs of homeowners and the construction industry since 1999.

The business also specialises in full attic space conversions as well as the supply and installation of the following:

- > Attic ladder
- > Access hatchway
- > Roof ventilation

The long-established business is backed by the current owner's more than 22 years of experience in the construction industry and takes pride in its reliable and competitive services. This has earned the business an outstanding reputation and numerous clients.

The current owner/operator is looking to retire and looking for someone to take over. As such, he is winding down, only working three days a week as required. There is huge scope to increase turnover by the new operator working 5 days.

No costs as this is a work-from-anywhere business!

Great potential for increased exposure and sales by adding a showroom.

A ute is available at an extra cost.

Grab this opportunity knocking at your door today!
