This is a great opportunity to purchase a very profitable transport business, which is based in South East Queensland. The family-owned business has been operating since 1912 and includes a huge fleet of trucks, forklifts, and transport vehicles.

Specialising in specialised freight, general packages, and courier runs for major companies like Australia Post, FedEx, Mainfreight, and Air Road.

The business has contracts with a number of customers and one established key relationship which accounts for approximately 40% of the revenue. This customer is looking to increase its annual turnover with the business and have just extended their existing contract until 2027. Additional trucks may be required to increase the capacity to handle the increase in revenue, which a new buyer would have to consider.

The business itself has a full management system, established and reliable staff, and a team that both internally and externally have a great reputation for going above and beyond for their customers and having a 'can do attitude'.
