DRAFTSMAN - BUILDING DESIGNER Established and profitable business in Redland Bay.

This is a house and land services design office for the southern Moreton Bay islands. Long-established, the business has been in the same hands for 25 years. They use design qualifications to provide an extensive range of building support services and product sales to local home owners and contractors.

The immediate opportunity here is to earn a high professional income level with potential for growth, while enjoying a unique mix of work and island lifestyle not found anywhere in the city.

The demand for design work and product sales is keeping the owner and one employee very busy. Both are qualified building designers.
