Genuine Niche Fabrication Business For Sale #5489SR

For sale is this specialist business that makes laboratory equipment out of PVC to meet the needs of schools, universities and laboratories.

It services the product they manufacture, providing test reports and compliance certificates for client records and holding full NATA accreditation to meet current Australian Standards.

No specialised qualifications are required to operate the business

The seller will ensure that a satisfactory transition occurs to a new owner and will pass on all knowledge of systems, procedures, customers and information related to the running of the business.

This business is a genuine opportunity to work in a small niche market with few overheads and constant demand for its products and services.

It is not a complicated business to operate and will reward a new owner with a wonderful work-life balance and a very good income.

The business operates in the fabrication, installation and servicing/maintenance of the product ensuring a constant income stream.

If you are business minded in addition to having an affinity to operating hands on in a business, you will increase the turnover and profitability of the business.

The income and profit of the business in the 2023 financial year was in the order of $400,000.
