Info about Lane Cove west...

Lane Cove West is a suburb on the Lower North Shore of Sydney, located 9 kilometres north-west of the Sydney central business district.

The land in the area was originally used for agriculture. From the mid-1950s Lane Cove West was home to the national head office, pressing plant, warehouse and recording studios of the Warner Bros. Records label Festival Mushroom Records.

Lane Cove West Business Park is an industrial area with factories and warehouses of such companies as Cochlear Hearing Implants, Macquarie Goodman, La Kantina (restaurant), Rockwell Automation, Harley Davidson (head office) and a Storage King complex (on the same site where previously a Nestle factory was located). Most of these are located on Mars Road and Sam Johnson Way (Orion Rd).
