Established Business #5761FR

Exciting Opportunity: If you are after an excellent work/life balance, here is a business for you.

This is a highly profitable business with a well-established, long-term customer base. You have the ability to continue to expand the business and revenue or simply purchase it in its current format and enjoy the benefits of the hard work that has gone into making it what it is today.

Enjoy multiple streams of income, including electrical testing, RCD testing, fire safety testing, sales of fire extinguishers, blankets & hose reels, and sales of first aid & safety supplies.

Market Conditions & Competition: Jim's brand is one of the most recognized and trusted in the Australian business market today.

In addition, Jim's Test & Tag works closely with their web service provider to ensure they rank within the top search results for electrical testing & tagging. A significant percentage of new business comes directly from internet searches.

Financial Summary: P&L and BAS statements are available to qualified buyers. With Jim's Test & Tag, you do not pay a percentage of your gross turnover.

Training & Support: No prior industry experience or knowledge is required. Jim's Test & Tag has a dedicated team of educators who will guide you step by step through their certified training program. A handover period will ensure you are settled with your new clients and equipment, providing an ideal start to establishing your business.

Training is conducted at the Jim's Group education facilities. The duration of training is 14 days, after which you will be fully trained and skilled in all forms of electrical testing.

Reason for Selling: The current owner is retiring.
