Victorian High Country

High Country Pest Control is a well-established, locally trusted pest management business servicing residential, commercial, and rural clients throughout North-East Victoria and the Southern highlands of NSW including key hubs like Corryong, Tallangatta, Mitta Mitta, Dartmouth and surrounds, as well as the major rural centres of Albury & Wodonga.

The Business at a Glance:

Longstanding client base with strong word-of-mouth referrals and repeat business

Services can include general pest control, termite inspections, pre-purchase reports, and rural/farm pest management

Includes two Ford Ranger utilities and a fully fitted-out tradie trailer hit the ground running

Efficient systems in place, with low overheads and flexible scheduling

WIWO sale with full training, client handover, and equipment included

A 'Business Review' including Asset list, Current financials, and Services Offered, is available upon request (Confidentiality Agreement included)

About the Current Operation:

The current owner is a local farmer and school bus driver, running the business around his other commitments. He employs his son as a contractor to assist with the workload, making this a fantastic opportunity for either a hands-on owner-operator or someone looking to step into a business with help already in place.

Why You'll Love It:

Where else can you enjoy a fulfilling career while spending your lunch break catching cod in the mighty Murray, or taking a detour home to soak in the panoramic views across Australia's snow-covered Alps?

Lifestyle-friendly: Work when you want, where you want
