Water Tank Business for Sale

Established in 2007, this business specialises in selling rainwater tanks for residential, agricultural and commercial use. The business has a comprehensive range of products, including slimline tanks, rounded tanks and modular tanks. These are available in a wide variety of sizes and colours. It also supplies pumps and other accessories for use with rainwater tanks.

The business sells its products to plumbing supplies companies, wholesalers and builders. The largest customer has accounted for approximately 10 percent of sales. As a result, the business has enjoyed a broadly spread customer base and has not been dependent on any particular customer.

The company's tanks are produced using the rotational moulding process. It owns 32 rotational moulds enabling production of a wide variety of tank designs.

With production and supply recently paused due to the current manufacturer ceasing operations, this creates a timely opportunity for you to step in, resume supply, and leverage the established customer base.

This business could make an excellent acquisition for a rotational moulding or rainwater tank business. It provides the chance to:

- * expand your product offering and tank range
- * grow your customer base, and
- * boost profitability through operational synergies and direct control of manufacturing

This could also be a great fit for an individual wishing to build up a business in the sustainability and water security sector.

The business comes with a solid asset base. In addition to its 32 tank moulds, the business comes with a truck fitted with a crane, 2 trailers, plus stock of tanks, pumps and ancillary products.

This business is being offered for sale by expressions of interest make an offer.
