Government ICT and Cyber Security Opportunity

Established in 2022, this ICT and Cyber Security consultancy has developed access to multiple government procurement panels, strategic industry partnerships and a scalable contractor-based operating model.

The business provides cyber security, project management, business analysis, testing and digital advisory services to government and enterprise clients throughout Australia, positioning it to benefit from growing demand for cyber security, digital transformation and technology consulting services.

Highlights

- * Majority Indigenous-owned business registered with Supply Nation.
- * Access to multiple Federal, State and Territory Government procurement panels.
- * Strategic partnerships with TCS, ServeGate Australia, Echelon Data and other industry leaders.
- * Scalable contractor-based delivery model with minimal fixed overheads.
- * Capability across cyber security, ICT consulting, project management and digital transformation services.
- * National service footprint across government and enterprise sectors.
- * Significant growth potential through increased tender participation and business development activity.
- * Opportunity for strategic investment, partial acquisition or full acquisition.

With established government access, Indigenous procurement credentials and strategic partnerships already in place, this opportunity represents an attractive platform for industry participants, technology firms, recruitment businesses or investors seeking exposure to Australia's expanding ICT and cyber security sector.

The shareholders are seeking strategic acquisition opportunities and are open to merger proposals, partial equity investment or a full acquisition, with all offers to be considered through an Expressions of Interest campaign.
