take the wheel on your new future- Heavy Vehicle license/instructing business

An outstanding opportunity to acquire one of NSW's most respected and long-established heavy vehicle driver licensing and instruction businesses.

Operating throughout Newcastle and the Hunter Region, and regularly servicing clients across Sydney, Wollongong and regional NSW, the business has built a strong reputation for delivering professional driver licensing, assessment, accreditation and compliance services to both individual and corporate clients.

For many years, the business has generated strong returns while establishing itself as a recognised industry leader with an extensive client base and excellent brand recognition.

With ongoing demand for qualified heavy vehicle operators across transport, logistics, mining, construction and related industries, the business is exceptionally well positioned for continued growth.

Diverse Revenue Streams

The business enjoys a loyal customer base and a substantial volume of repeat and referral business. Long-standing relationships with corporate clients provide regular group bookings and ongoing demand for driver licensing, assessment and compliance services.

Unique Industry Position

Importantly, the business operates independently of an aligned Registered Training Organisation (RTO). The sale includes the option of continuing under an existing formal agreement with the current RTO partner, allowing the purchaser to maintain access to assessment and administrative support services if desired.

Growth Opportunities

This opportunity would suit:

An owner-operator seeking a profitable and established business.

An industry participant looking to expand existing operations.

A transport or logistics company wishing to secure access to qualified drivers and licensing services.

Investors seeking a business with strong brand recognition and proven market demand.

The current owners have successfully built the business into a highly respected industry leader and are committed to assisting with a smooth transition to ensure continuity for clients, staff and ongoing operations.

Businesses of this calibre rarely become available. This is an exceptional opportunity to take ownership of a profitable, well-established operation with significant future growth potential.
