Structural Engineering Building Consulting

This Engineering business was established in 1989 and has since cultivated a loyal client base over more than three decades of consistent service delivery and know the owner is looking to retire and hand the business on to an engineer looking to grow their business through acquisition.

Although the business is located in the Sutherland Shire the business operates across Sydney Significant potential exists to expand the business through social media marketing and digital presence, areas that remain completely unexplored. With MVRL/Trades licence requirements met and the option to engage qualified engineers for broader service capabilities, the business is well-positioned for strategic growth in an industry with growing demand for housing throughout Australia
