Established Specialist Lubrication business with 40+ years of trading history and a significant trans-Tasman operation

Morey Oil presents an opportunity to acquire an established specialist lubrication business with 40+ years of trading history and a significant trans-Tasman operation.

Operating across Australia and New Zealand, Morey Oil supplies premium lubricants, greases, fuel additives and specialist industrial products to a long-standing, repeat customer base across automotive, mining, agriculture, transport and industrial sectors.

The business currently operates from five locations: Auckland in New Zealand, and four Australian distribution points in Brisbane, Hervey Bay (relocating to Melbourne), Adelaide and Perth, supported by an experienced sales and technical team. The business is not contractually tied to these locations, giving a new owner the flexibility to absorb operations into existing premises or restructure the site footprint as suits. Key personnel intend to remain under new ownership, providing valuable continuity, technical expertise and established customer relationships.

Morey Oil benefits from recognised products, specialist technical positioning, ISO-accredited systems and established trans-Tasman distribution infrastructure.

The business would be particularly well suited to an Australian oil, lubricant, packaging or industrial business, with clear potential to integrate operations into existing infrastructure, consolidate sites, reduce freight costs and further grow the Australian market. However, the opportunity is equally open to other buyers looking to enter or expand in the lubrication sector.

Asking Price: NZD $2,800,000
