Marketing support

We have extensive experience in marketing accommodation solutions to the corporate sector backed by a team of marketing and sales professionals. This is coupled with our blue chip client list that includes a range of multinationals and many of Australia's top 200 companies.

Training provided

You will be guided you through the initial training and provided ongoing support . We start training whilst you are taking over your business. You will be assisted at every step including: choosing apartments, furnishing apartments, setting up utilities and connections, client development, improving operational effectiveness . Much of the training is live and on the job - there is no better way. What's more, you have access to training and guidance whenever you need it.

Skills

No prior experience is needed in the hotels or serviced apartments industry . We do require , however , that you have experience in running or managing a business and dealing with clients in a corporate environment. You need to be prepared to work in and understand the business from the ground up in the early days, but the rewards and opportunity that open up to you make it a very worthwhile challenge.
