Mechanical Repair Business for Sale, Newcastle area NSW

Established since 1989, this mechanical servicing and repairs business has proven to be a performer for the current owner. The business has provided a great work-life balance for the owner, having time off as required and provides a return of over $70,000 p.a.

Word of mouth, referrals and constant repeat customers are what keeps this business busy without the need for marketing and advertising.

The business enjoys high margins through exhausts and mufflers, pink slips. They also offer other general mechanical services and auto air-conditioning. The owner has invested in the business with a great list of included equipment and assets, and even a little car thrown in!

Modern equipment, new signage and payment plan options for clients have contributed to the success of this business and the growing volume of work.

Located about 20 minutes from Newcastle in a very popular and growing suburb, the business sits within a small business complex with several similar and aligning businesses, all working together and all offering with their own niche services.

The business is priced to sell, and the owner is more than happy to assist with training and transition.
